

Andrew Siegel, CPA

PARTNER, TAX

Andrew Siegel is a Partner with GH&I and leader of the firm's tax department, one of the largest local accounting firm tax practices among mid-size CPA firms in Atlanta. Mr. Siegel concentrates his practice in the areas of individual tax financial planning and partnership taxation. He has worked to expand and develop the firm's investment partnership practice which boasts a wide range of clients located across the country. He also works with many of the firm's closely-held corporate business clients, representing a wide range of industries.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Mr. Siegel brings a diverse and experienced accounting, business and financial background to his client practice. He joined GH&I in 1993, having previously served as a controller at the Atlanta Economic Development Corporation. He began his career as a retail stockbroker with Dean Witter Reynolds which is now part of Morgan Stanley.

AFFILIATIONS AND EDUCATION

Mr. Siegel is a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) and the Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants (GSCPA). He is also an active member of the Southeastern Hedge Fund Association and further serves as a leader in GH&I's investment partnership practice group.

In the Atlanta community of midtown, Mr. Siegel recently served as a member of the board of trustees and chairperson of an annual giving campaign with The Children's School, a private elementary school; and he served as chairperson of a corporate sponsorship fundraising effort with The Paideia School and with the Booster Club. Today, he coaches his children in competitive youth sports teams and is an avid baseball fan and lifelong golfer.

A Florida State University graduate, Mr. Siegel received his bachelor of science degree in finance in 1985. He went on to earn a master's degree in taxation from Georgia State University.